First Regional Center for Exporting Software and Information Management Systems Inaugurated at Smart Village

Cairo, 05 May 2008... Minister of Communications and Information Technology Dr. Tarek Kamel witnessed today the memorandum of understanding (MoU) signing between Information Technology Industry Development Agency (ITIDA) and International Turnkey Systems (ITS) on establishing the first regional center for remotely exporting software and Information management systems from Egypt.

ITIDA Executive President Dr. Hazem Abdel-Azim and ITS CEO and Managing Director Mr. Khaled Farag Al-Saeid cosigned the agreement.

By founding the new center in Egypt's technology park the Smart Village, ITS aims at managing, operating and maintaining the information systems of its current and new clients through the internationally-recognized outsource information management systems.

A $4-million capital Egyptian company has been established over an 820 square meter to carry out the agreement's activities starting June 2008. The center depends on 408 well-trained and qualified Egyptian employees to provide all technological services.

The center will provide a number of advantages like prompt identification of sudden problems that encounter a company's system or database and having it solved it on the spot. The center will also work as an early alert system to discover any possible defects in a company's system.

Dr. Kamel stated that the agreement comes within the Ministry of Communications and Information Technology's policy that aims to attract foreign investments to Egypt, thus offering distinguished job opportunities to Egyptian calibers.

In addition to providing a venue in the Smart Village, ITIDA contributes to the project with human resource training and other incentives.

ITIDA Executive President Dr. Hazem Abdel-Azim said that the agreement is a turning point as the company is building the first of its kind center in the region, which makes Egypt a regional hub for information management systems services.

Mr. Al-Saied said that choosing Egypt to be the location of this regional center came after the role it had been playing in the Middle East in addition to the availability of qualified calibers and the incentives the government provides to this fast developing, vital sector.

Al-Saeid added that ITS' goal aims to invest in the local human force as part of investing in the Egyptian economy as a whole, which goes in line with the strategy of MCIT and ITIDA.

ITS had earlier signed a cooperation agreement with Indian Infosys Technologies Ltd. on receiving its technical support to establish this center in Egypt.

Established in 2004, the Information Technology Industry Development Agency (ITIDA) aims at developing and promoting the IT industry in Egypt. Relying on unequivocal governmental support, ITIDA utilizes a vast array of advantages and privileges bestowed on Egypt and synchronizes public and private efforts in order to place the country high on the global ICT market scale.

Established in 1981, ITS is a leading integrated information technology solutions and software services provider, offering superior products and services. The company entered into partnerships with mega regional and international IT companies. About 2000 employees carry out the company's operations at 19 ITS offices in the Middle East, North Africa, East Asia and the Caribbean.
