Dear Mr Sung:

This letter, when signed by you, will constitute our agreement to provide public relations support for the Korean Foreign Trade Association delegation that will be visiting the United States from October 27, 1993 through November 5, 1993.

Either party may terminate this agreement, by giving no less than ten (10) days prior written notice of termination. If termination occurs, the fee will be prorated to cover the number of days worked prior to termination.

As public relations counsel, we will work with your office to produce a media kit that will be used to draw media attention to the Korean delegation, the commodities show that the delegation will present, and the seminars that will be conducted in the three cities -- Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York -- to be visited by the group. We will include in the kit such existing materials produced by KFTA or the Korean government that you feel are appropriate and that provide background and perspective on the current trade relationship between the United States and Korea. We anticipate that up to 400 kits probably will be necessary.

To maximize media attention for the U.S. tour by the Korean delegation, we will develop lists of those reporters and editors with national, regional, local and trade media outlets who we think can be persuaded to cover the tour and the issues surrounding it. In addition to providing these individuals with media kits, we will pitch the stories of the tour to them; i.e., we will contact them by telephone in the effort to persuade them to cover the tour's events and issues. In addition, we will seek to arrange media interviews in each city for the head of the delegation and the other members of the delegation slated to participate in the trade seminar aspect of the tour.

At the outset of the tour, in Los Angeles, we also will provide the full tour delegation with a two hour media training session in which we will advise the participants of the kind of question with which they may be confronted and affective means of dealing with the media. Each of the participants will also be provided with a customized media training manual. In Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York, a representative of Edelman also will greet the Korean delegation upon its arrival.

For these efforts, you will pay our firm a one-time project fee of $34,000 that will include all our expenses. The fee will be due within thirty (30) days after the date of the invoice that will be delivered to you.

You agree to indemnify and save us harmless from and against all liability, including all actions, claims, damages, costs and attorneys' fees, which may incur (or to which we may be a party), arising out of actions taken or statements made by us at your direction or based upon information provided by you and any and all losses, claims, damages, expenses or liabilities related to the use of your products or services.

The fee for professional services covers activities in the United States only.

You agree that you will not employ, hire, or retain, as an employee, agent, independent contractor or otherwise, any person employed by us for a period of one year after termination of this agreement.

You agree that you and any of your employees, agents or representatives, if any, shall maintain all the information of any kind in any form acquired, devised or developed from us or from our files in strict confidentiality.

Please sign two (2) copies of this agreement, returning one to Edelman.
