Re: Fujian Jinhua Integrated Circuit Co., Ltd. Representation

Dear Ms. Zhou:

Per our standard procedures, we are writing to confirm the terms of our engagement in the above-referenced matter. Kobre & Kim LLP ("Kobre & Kim") is continuing to act for Fujian Jinhua Integrated Circuit Co., Ltd. ("you" or "Client") in the scope of work detailed in our engagement letter with you dated December 19, 2018. We are not being retained for any other purpose.[1]

We have reviewed our records in accordance with our customary procedures to prevent conflicts of interest and on the basis of this review we are not aware of any other representation which would preclude us from undertaking this engagement or adversely affect our ability to complete it.

[1] In this regard, Kobre & Kim is not acting in any other role or for any other party than what is stated above. For example, Kobre & Kim is not acting as counsel related to responses to audits, disclosure, compliance, employment, insurance coverage, or bankruptcy matters unless specifically agreed to herein. To the extent that matters related to such or other matters beyond the scope of the engagement set forth in this letter arise in the course of our work, it is not intended that any opinions expressed by Kobre & Kim are for the purpose of providing independent legal advice. To that end, it is expected and agreed upon that Client will obtain formal advice from another law firm without relying on our opinions. Obviously, in its role as counsel for this matter, Kobre & Kim relies upon the veracity of information provided to it by Client. In addition, the mere fact that we are counsel of record on a particular court case does not mean we are acting for the client on matters generally relating to the subject matter of the case. We note that where required by law, under certain limited circumstances we may be obliged to disclose information that Client provides, including evidence.

Fees

As mentioned in our latest budget correspondence with you, our timeline to complete the scope of work and related projects described in our original engagement letter has been compressed. To account for the completion of the work in a much shorter timeframe (which increases the monthly estimates) as well as additional resources we may need to invest in order to meet the new timeframe, and as outlined in our budget proposal, we request that you deposit into our attorney escrow account the additional amount indicated. Consistent with our prior agreement as set forth in the engagement letter, Client will replenish the retainer after each monthly invoice, and any excess retainer amounts will be refunded to Client upon completion of our engagement. If circumstances change and this engagement appears to require a greater amount of effort than currently anticipated, in the future, we may request a larger retainer as appropriate for the circumstances.

It is agreed that all other terms and conditions in our existing engagement letter with you, dated December 19, 2018, will continue to apply.

We look forward to continuing to work with you.

Very truly yours,

KOBRE & KIM LLP
