Response to Item 9

Item 9: Describe fully the activities the registrant engages in or proposes to engage in on behalf of the above foreign principal.

The registrant, that is also the foreign principal, aims to develop and implement initiatives to create a favorable trade and business environment, enhance U.S.-Indonesian trade bonds and deepen the growing strategic partnership between the two countries.

This will be done by pursuing U.S. governmental and private sector investment in Indonesia and securing support from the United States and other governmental and nongovernmental stakeholders. At the outset, we will ascertain Indonesia's economic standing with key policymakers in the executive and legislative branches and provide recommendations on how to address U.S. perceptions and position the country for a more productive relationship with the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. government.

We will work to leverage our significant relationships with congressional stakeholders and Administration officials to further political, trade and economic support ensuring Indonesia is recognized for its growing commercial and trade contributions as well as the economic reforms it has undertaken.

We will work to enhance the overall perception of Indonesia in the U.S. We will work together to build a strategic plan that introduces Indonesia's vibrant and diverse culture to the large swath of Americans who are unfamiliar with the country and its people- while simultaneously working to engage the Indonesian diaspora in the U.S.

This will start with conducting research to get a baseline of the American public's perception, identify the most powerful and recognizable spokespeople and figures, and explore which messages are the strongest. Tactically, the plan will include press engagements, partnership development, event ideas, and other ways to deepen a personal connection to Indonesia- whether it be through food, music, art or other cultural components.
